PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The publication of this issue of the Yearbook, Leonidata, marks the fifth year of the history of this school. Most of the members of this year's graduating classes have received their whole secondary school education at Aldershot. I congratulate the graduates upon their successes and extend to them every good wish for the future.

Perhaps it is fitting, on a fifth anniversary, to look back to our founding year and to consider our growth and progress.

In September, 1961, this school opened with an enrolment of 413 students in the General Course of grades 9, 10, and 11. In 1962, the programme was extended to grade 12, with a total of 537 students. In 1963, we registered our first grade 13 class, and had a school population of 598. In 1964, we introduced the Four Year Business and Commerce Course, and our enrolment climbed to 686. In 1965, the opening of a twelve room addition enabled us to offer the Four Year and Five Year Science and Technology and the Five Year Business and Commerce Courses. Our enrolment rose to 780 students.

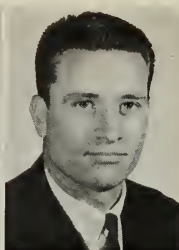

Due to the extension of Commercial and Technical facilities, we are able to give courses designed for students who have a wide range of interests and abilities. Each student should now be able to register in a course where interest, enthusiasm and hard work will be rewarded by success and the happiness of achievement.

'66 is a banner year for our school. Those students entering grade nine in 1961, Aldershot's founding year, will graduate. Thus, as you leaf through the pages of this book, keep in mind that another milestone in the history of Aldershot High School has been reached. A theme of books, representing the desire to learn, has been maintained throughout Leonidata to serve as a constant reminder.

"I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving."

Oliver Wendell Holmes very aptly expressed the thought which has motivated the yearbook staff. An illustrated contents page, photographs of student artwork, a more imaginative layout, and an increased number of candid shots of students and staff, are indeed signs of progress. To accommodate these innovations, the yearbook has been enlarged by sixteen pages. As the school grows, as our experience broadens, so does Leonidata.

I offer my sincerest thanks to all those who gave so generously of their time and effort and all those who contributed the photographs and literary pieces which made this book possible.

OUR ORPHANS

ANNA MARIA PISANI

My dearest friends,

I have been very pleased with the money you have sent to me and you cannot imagine my happiness to have everything for the school now. I bought a new pinafore too and am not able to thank you enough. My dear friends, I am enclosing a picture (together with my brothers). You will see my sister Paola (who is attending grade 11), my brother Fausto who is five years old and my sister Fiorella, who is only three years old and is a very pretty girl. I hope you will be happy to meet them too.

My brothers and sisters are sending you their best regards and fond kisses. Hugs and kisses from your affectionate god-child.

ANNA MARIA PISANI

My dear friends,

With great joy I have received the money you sent me. It came very useful as Father at the moment is not working. YOU are a great help to me and my Mother spends the money in the best way. I am glad to say the results of the first were good. I am sure you will be happy about it too. My parents send you best regards and many thanks. My little brothers send you kisses (you have seen them on the photo). A big kiss from your friend.

ANNA MARIA PISANI

LEE SUNG JIP

My dear sponsors,

I wish you a Happy New Year, and you will have all you wish in the New Year. I did not forget to pray for your being richly blessed on the Christmas Day. We are happy, and I thank you very much for the sponsorship grant of 2,500 won this time again. It enabled me to have winter clothes and winter things. I will be in grade 5th, and will be busy for the entrance examination of middle term.

My school is closed for winter vacation. I plan to study hard during the vacation. As you help me, so I will try not make you disappointed of me.

I think of you much. I pray that you are well as ever.

With love,

LEE SUNG JIP

My dear sponsors,

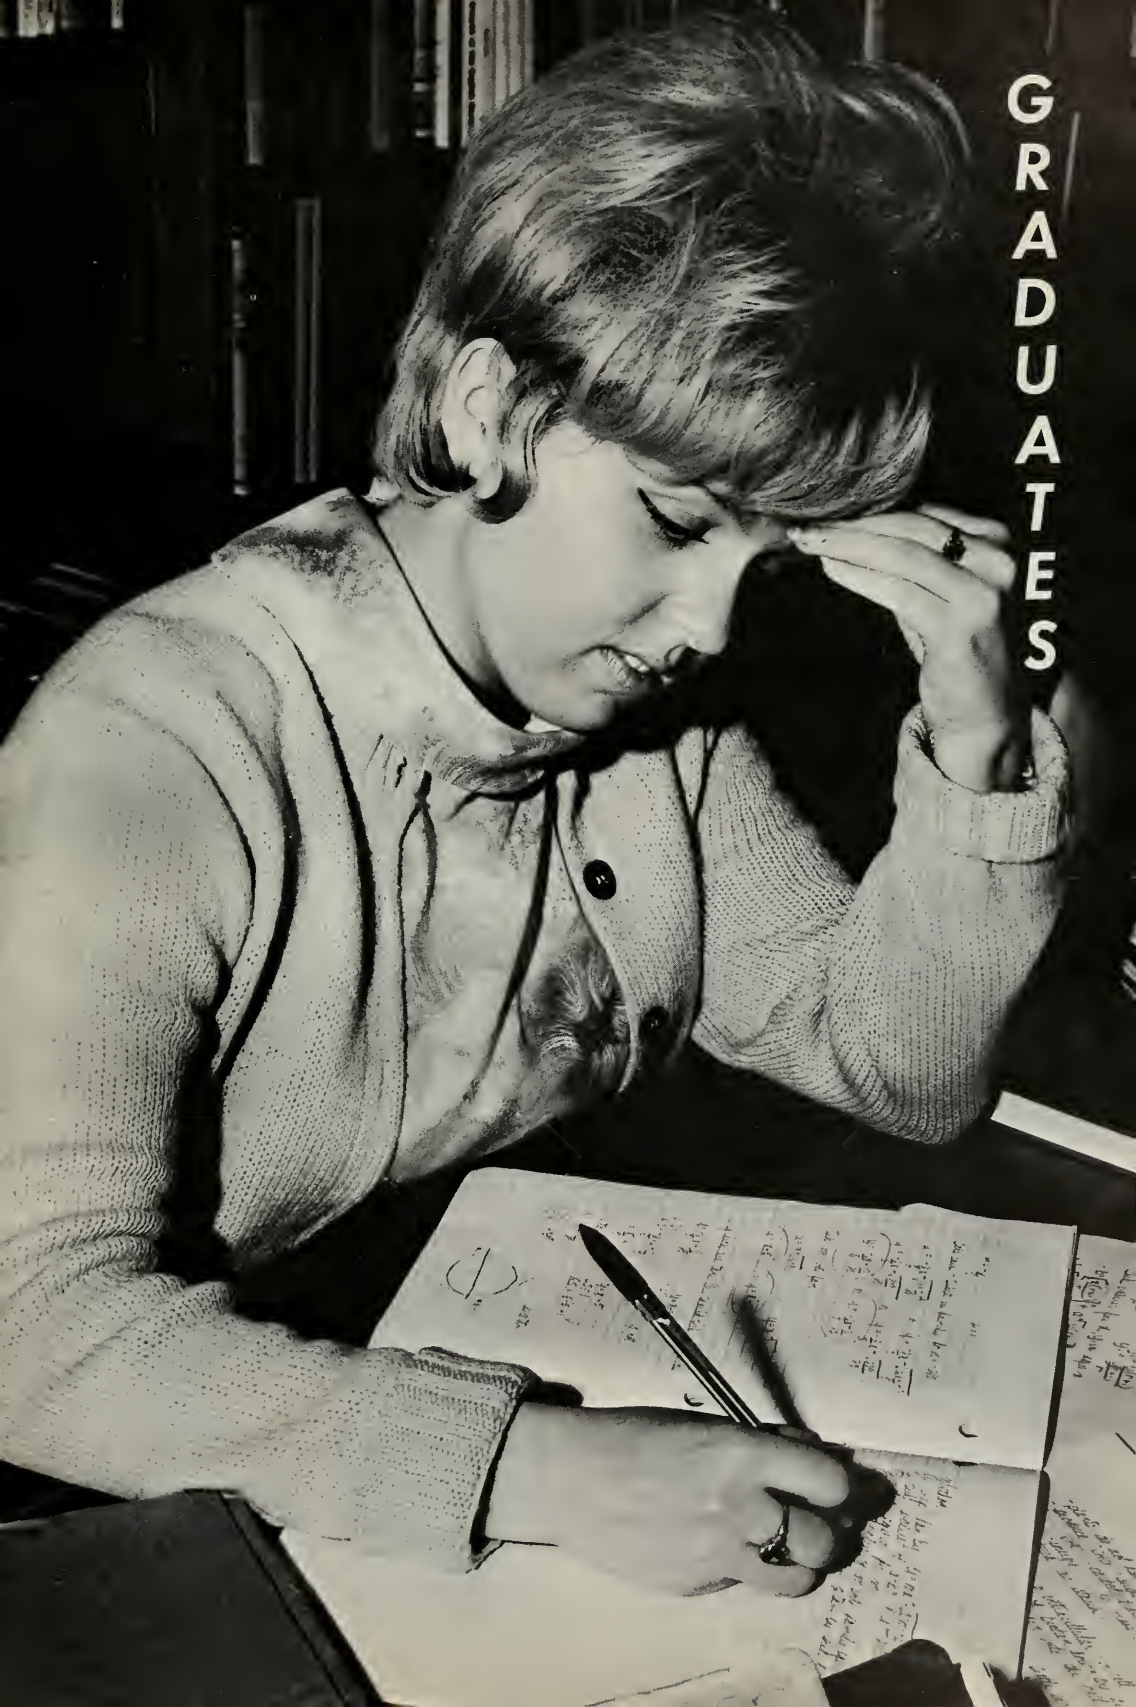

It is lovely spring days here in Korea. How are you all, dear sponsors? We all are well and I received the sponsorship grant of 2,510 won and this time with the money I could be prepared with all my necessary school things for the new school year which has begun from the 1st March. I am now in grade 5th at school. I will have to study hard for the examination of middle school two years later. My sister is in grade 6th, and she will enter middle school next year.

You are helping us, and we get along happily. We thank you very much and we will not forget. Soon my school goes on a school picnic before the spring is over. Praying for your good health, I close here for now.

With love from,

LEE SUNG JIP

THE LION'S DEN

FRONT ROW: D. Callan, D. Hewson, E. Wright, G. Giannini, J. Porteous, R. Dale, B. Ferguson, J. Brimer, D. Wilson. MIDDLE ROW: P. Caulderbank, L. Field, J. Heywood, M. Epstein, E. Luxon, G. Spinks, L. The year of 1965 — 66 at Aldershot has truly been a year of participation for our students. The drama club in its outstanding presentation of "H.M.S. Pinafore", under the fine direction of Mr. Mallory, and the Christmas assembly organized and MC'ed by Lou Eastwood, both required the enthusiasm of many Aldershot students to make them as successful as they were.

We as the representatives of the student body felt, however, that there was a need for an activity which would undoubtedly produce much greater participation. For this reason, with the aid of the G.A.A. and the B. A.A., we developed what we hope will be an annual event for all Aldershot students — ALD-O-LYMPIC WEEK. The success of this venture, as you will all agree, developed far beyond our most optimistic hopes.

For all these events which we have enjoyed during the year there is only one person to thank and that is "you" — the student who has supported the outstanding efforts of others and shown to everyone that our school — Aldershot High — has "school spirit" greater than any other.

Many people deserve credit for outstanding work on the Students' Council. They are Mr. Cantlon and Mr. Johnson — few realize the time they have taken and the needed advice that they have given; Christine Finlay and Mr. Walsh for their incomparable efforts as the leaders of our hard-working Social Committee; Paul Perell who has what is easily the largest and most thankless job in our school — the keeping of the treasury; Wendy Hall, Lou Eastwood and Chris Cudmore who behind the scenes have carried the council throughout the year; and finally Mr. McCollom for his complete support in all our new and different ventures.

We have served you as your representatives as eagerly and as best we know how; we would leave only one wish. Choose your representatives wisely and then enter into all the available activities with the same enthusiasm you expect from them. This is the key to the steady growth of School Spirit. Good luck and thank you.

THE LION'S ROAR

"The Lion's Roar" staff, this year, small but diligent, was able to produce seven issues, the first of which was free to all. The paper assumed a neater appearance by the use of stencils for titling and a two-column printing layout. Also, the staff itself was responsible for the actual printing of the paper, the first time in the publication's four-year history that this has been done.

Among the successful features this year have been the "Recognitions Page", a derogatory editorial on the defects of the cheerleading squad, pages of candid pictures and such goodies as:

BOAST OF THE MUSTANGER:

I never trust the moonlight — — —
I'm home soon after dark,
My road map shows no lover's lane
And so I never park.
I never drag, nor squeal the tires
When I drive down the streets
And just to prove my heart is right
My car has bucket seats!

Mr. 213 ??
Vol. IV No. 6.

BONES:

Did you ever think of bones
They lie there cold and alone
Yes, after you're gone they remain
A pile no one will claim.
Just think, no fat little body to support
Or juicy blood cells running in and out.
Have you ever seen a bone cry?
Well, as a matter of fact, neither have I.

Good-bye from your on-the-spot report,
I. Robgraves — Happy digging.

M. Lisson,
Vol. IV No. 6.

In February, "The Lion's Roar" entered the high school newspaper contest sponsored by the McMaster Silhouette and although it did not emerge a winner, it learned much that will help next year's staff (much larger we hope) to produce a "bigger and better" newspaper.

THE SCIENCE CLUB

The Aldershot Science Club had its biggest year ever, this year.

To start off, the Third Annual Cosmic Carousel, the first dance of the fall was held. There was enough money grossed from this, and the presentation of a one-hundred dollar cheque to the Science Club from Honeywell Controls on behalf of Sharon Roberts' television appearance on "Science All-Stars" in early 1965, to assist the financing of some of the projects in the Hamilton Science Fair, and to pay for the customary Chinese dinner at the Tien Kue Inn.

Gary Pesowski's "Bosch-Omori Seismograph".

Before Christmas, there were several general meetings held, the highlight of which was a "Laser" demonstration, attracting over one hundred students, by Dr. R. Smillie of the Bell Telephone Co.

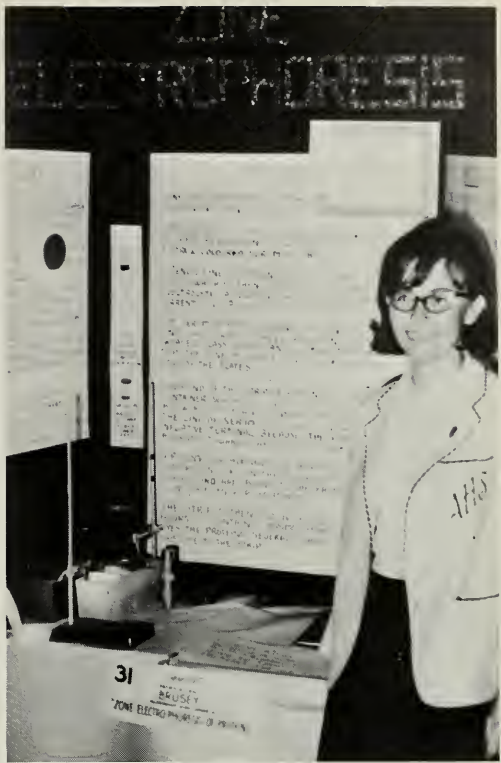

At the Hamilton Science Fair, in March, Aldershot for the first time represented itself well enough to capture the Herb Gildea Memorial Trophy. The following contributed to the success:

Gary Pesowski	1st in Geography, & Physiography
Stuart Beal	1st in Chemistry
Guy Giannini	1st in Gen. Physics
John Royle	2nd in Metallurgy
Patricia Brusey	3rd in Chemistry
Gary Coates	Merit award in Engineering & Mathematics
John Gilbert	Merit award in Nuclear Physics
Fred Lenz	Merit award in Zoology
Dave Seeley	Merit award in Electronics
Rick Seeley	Merit award in Chemistry.

In addition, Gary Pesowski and Stuart Beal won second and third over-all awards respectively, and a three-hundred dollar scholarship each from McMaster University. Guy Giannini was chosen the alternate for Navy Science Cruiser Award to Norfolk, Virginia. As a point of interest, Stuart and Gary were chosen to appear one afternoon on "Raz-zle Dazzle", a CBC program, as the "serious part of the program."

Stuart went on to the Canada Wide Science Fair in Windsor, Canada, held in May, 1966, where he won a one-hundred dollar cheque from the Canadian Chemicals Institute. Gary entered his exhibit in the International Science Fair, held in Dallas, May 1966, and while in Dallas won a certificate of excellence from the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers and an alternate award from the Society of Exploration Geophysicists.

Now that the Aldershot High Science Club has taken that trophy from Nelson, you can bet that the members will be striving harder than ever to keep it next year!

Pat Brusey with her project on "Zone Electrophoresis of proteins".

THE CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club held its regular meetings in room 220 this year, and fun was had by all those who participated. The Aldershot Chess Club played in no tournaments this year, although several other schools were challenged, among them Burlington Central. It is apparent that our boys have gained a reputation for skillful play in the community.

THE GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Congratulations are again in order for the fine efforts put forth by the G.A.A. under the excellent guidance of Miss Lyons. The association was responsible for two "firsts" in the history of A. H.S.: the organization of the very successful "Grade Nine Get Acquainted Night", and the staging of an "Art Linkletter Skit" which entertained the school at Christmas.

Our annual Sadie Hawkin's Dance, and an exciting girls' intramural gymnastics meet were two other noteworthy G.A.A. accomplishments which indicate clearly the enthusiasm and hard work contributed by these girls for the benefit of the school.

THE BOYS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The B.A.A. carried out a most successful intramural programme in football, soccer, basketball, floor hockey and lacrosse. A joint effort with the Students' Council and the G.A.A. produced a successful and enjoyable Ald-O-lympic Week which featured a tug-of-war and a volleyball game between the teachers. The Gold Team was victorious.

In the fight for the Aldershot Loser's Cup, the B.A.A. was the winner of the prized cup, after being edged out by the teachers in a closely contested basketball game.

The B.A.A. would like to extend their thanks to Mr. Neale for his valuable assistance this year.

SONNET

Small drops in tender tracery close drawn,
Jewels, set by willows gold with Midas fall,
Glow in the flame of a radiant new-born dawn,
Froth in a sunset loveliness over all.
The branches downward drop like streaks of rain
As blood red bushes boil up to meet
Reflections scattered into dancing coins
Spent now to pave the rich earth at their feet.
Bend down to feel the precious crispness cut –
See ore that runs in veins beneath the earth –
That sears man's mind, excites his blind eyes, but Matches not this crust of living gold in worth.
Yet every day must dies with every night;
And cold dark kills this ecstasy of light.

JANET LAWRENCE, 12B

AN IRREVERENT STUDY OF ALDERSHOT

Heh! heh! (please not the embarrassed tone of type), your intrepid and itinerant author-at-large (small?) can't seem to be able to dream up and set down a hard-hitting, thought-provoking, basically honest, . . . ad nauseum, topic sentence on the subject of my topic which is. . . ah. . . um. . . , well, anyway, I'll just ad lib as I merrily type along and hope and pray for the best. Therefore it would be wise for the intelligent reader to expect the worst. With my eyes and ears closed to all advice, and my mouth open, I now make the great leap into literary effortmanship.

All seriousness aside, children; follow me, if you will, through a typical day in the never-ending wandering life of your author-at-school.

The general trend of conversation as I breathlessly wend my weary way down the sometimes well-lit corridors to my homeroom at about eight-and-one-half-minutes-to-nine, usually runs (off at the mouth) something like this: "Hey, Nick, any teachers away today, I hope, maybe?" "Duh, I dunno, I'm still asleep." "Like, who's that? I haven't seen her around before." "Okay, who stole my lock?" "Don't look at me, Donny boy." "Who'd ever look at you?" At this point, Authority-Wit-A-Yardstick politely asks the gathering to move out to its respective classrooms, or else —. Scholars, students, pupils, and others begin to wander in the general direction of their girlfriends' classes in order to prepare for the announcement talkathon. Then the bell-which-rings-to-denote-the-start-of-first-period- (whew!) rings, and rooms erupt and explode as students rush yawningly to their favourite classes for a badly-needed sleep. My own spare comes in rather handy on Mondays. Approximately two-and-one-half minutes later rooms erupt and explode as a conglomeration of wrong-doers hirple (that means 'to limp lamely') along the empty bustling corridors in search of the pink-slipping office. Here I hesitate to continue, not because I might incriminate myself, but because I'm running out of 35¢ words from Roget's Thesaurus. Then again, he who hesitates gets lost in the mush. .er. . . rush, so, I must forge ahead in my original suave and blasé (Pronunciation guide: swayve and blaze) manner and incredibly couth style. Anyway, first period drags along indefinitely as teachers, students and the like hopefully keep an eagle eye on the clock. Of course, if one is in room 122, that infallible wonder of modern technology, the IBM clock usually, nay, .always, reads Moscow Time (or London Time, depending on whether one considers it seven hours fast or five hours slow). This marvellous clock never fails to fluster Mr. 122! One of these bright and sunny days, someone will stare in bug-eyed amazement, as someone else dismisses the class because another someone else thought that another two hours of dreamland would be useful. Then again, it was only ten after six in the morning, sir. In the due process of time lunch rears its gorgeous head around the corner of twelve o'clock. If one is still waiting for second lunch, as I am, the stomach lets one know, par (that's French, people, and means 'by') discreet rumblings of the Hunger Pang System. Did you know that the Hunger Pang System is one of the most wonderful creations of Mamma Nature? This tiny organism — composed of three-and-one-half jelly-beans (jelly-babies to the beetle folk) and one grain of salt from a year-old pretzel — tells one, without fail, that one is hungry, starving, famished, or beyond help, as the case may be.

After lunch, the healthy specimens of humanity struggle into school, healthfully filled with a well-balanced repast of toasted Danish, Pepsi, and cigarette smoke. With classroom doors slamming in the faces of the tardy, who inevitably complain, "But, sir, there was a terrific traffic jam on the main staircase, sir. . . ? ", and with books and mouths opening and closing, and paper fluttering madly in the breeze — room temperature is either three degrees below zero or two hundred degrees above (would you believe ONE hundred degrees?) — I seem to have lost track of my subject matter, which was boring you and me anyway, anyway c'est la vie. Maybe I'll close with a short swing at some mutually interesting topic such as the 'Seven Days' controversy, or, Hoo Boy! Scandal! Espionage! but most of all, disinterest: The (trumpets, fanfare) Mudslinger Affair (fanfare, trumpets, applause, fade-out). Maybe I should stay away from politics. I never did like trumpets.

'Oh, somewhere in this favoured land the sun is shining bright, the band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light; and somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout, but there's no joy in Aldershot. . . ' (apologies to E. L. Thayer) for the gently falling, pouring rain begins to come down from heaven at exactly three-seventeen as a motley mob steams from the protective walls of 50 Fairwood Place West into the hard cruel, Honda- and Playboy infested outside world.

THE DEPARTMENT STORE

The department store – a creamy gleaming from the solid rows of square-packed produce on matted shelves. A galaxy of hanging neon bars. The click and glitter of coins. A glossy circus of bright plastic toys. Thin pans of pastry scattered on a gritty counter. The soft sweetness of candy-canes, melted and stippled on sticky, sucking children.

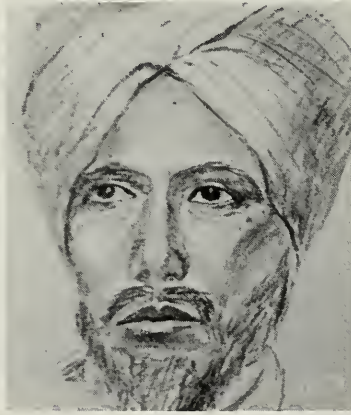

Remember the nasal voices of the clerks: a clear, crisping, crackling strain when they demand of your intentions; a purling, purring babble when confessing ignorance.

And I remember leaving; looking back through gleaming glass; threading a path through the lot and away. I saw the colors fade, heard the voices drift away upon the air, and the thriving hive seemed smaller. And now, down the road, the rumbling chaos was quelled.

THE MYSTERY OF OUR PAST

If ever there was a more decrepit, worn, magnificent hammer, I have never seen it! From its battered head to its tendinous handle, the beauty of age had left its mark.

Resting silently in the dusty corner of an old work shed, its rugged exterior captured my interest. Its head, the size of a mallet, was a ball of leather, twisted around itself in taut coils. The rusty nails, sank into this fleshy mound, pinned it to the handle beneath. The outer crust was beaten into a brownish purple, and scarred with white gashes where the ragged edges had ripped back. A bushy crown of splintered wood, whose tempered surface dipped ever so slightly in the middle where countless hands had secured their grasp. As our eyes cover and re-cover the image of this humble relic, they touch the mystery of the past.

JANET SAUNDERS, 12B

DO YOU BELIEVE?

It was a lonely night – I was alone. Alone on a island in Canada's unsettled north. The lake was calm; the air was mild. Suddenly I saw him, another lonely figure on the lake.

About a half mile down, he was just putting his canoe into the water. I had heard about him before, but this was the first time I had seen him. It was rumoured that he paddled alone at night to communicate with nature and to write poetry. A large man he was; and powerful, too.

As he dipped his paddle gently into the water the stars played mysterious games overhead. The moon reflected lonely rays of light as if telling a marvel. Loneliness and sorrow could be sensed everywhere. Even the young sunfish swimming alone and the owl hooting self-consciously: the feeling was the same everywhere.

As he began to sing a Negro spiritual, a gently falling rain appeared across the lake. As he saw it move towards him he removed his clothes in a deliberate, almost sacred, manner. He was now up the lake about a quarter of a mile, but still his silhouette was distinct against the moon.

I wondered at the rumours. He loved nature, especially the animals. I knew that the deer were his favourites, although I had never seen him talk with them. Recently a friend had approached a deer with him and had taken advantage of the situation. A deer had been sacrificed on his account; but the 'friend' had not been seen since.

I looked at him as he bathed in nature's pureness. Sacred water, he called it. Only at certain times would he bathe to purify himself. But for what reason?

The rain now stopped. He remained naked and sat down, to write, I imagined.

He was a mile up the lake now and could barely be distinguished. His disappearing form hinted that he was standing as he suddenly burst forth with loud, clear chants. The echoing was so full and vibrant that all nature seemed to be chanting with him. The wind began to blow fiercely and suddenly a bright flash almost blinded me. Thunder clapped overhead but still no rain fell. Why? The flash had come from the canoe! I was sure of it! Was it simply lightning?

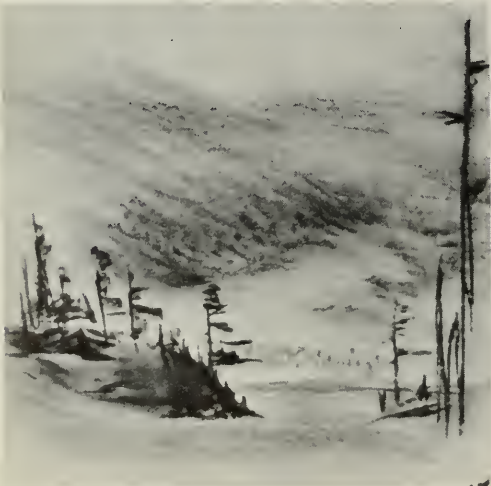

I awoke the next morning to the steady lapping of water against the side of a boat. I looked out of my tent to see a canoe not more than twenty yards from shore. I paddled to it in my own canoe. It was his. Inside were his clothes, a piece of birch bark, and a sleeping fawn. Trembling, I picked up the birch bark and, noticing the writing upon it, began to read:

My God, if You could only see me here,
Upon Your lake; below your sky so clear,
You'd have mercy on me in my plight
To escape the everlasting night.

This world's not mine for I have killed,
I've thrown my lance, misused my shield,
I'm sacrificed. So please, Lord, send a deer
To ease the pangs of my eternal fear.

On one lonely evening, on an island, the course of my life changed. It could some day for you.
Do you believe?

ALDERSHOT JUNIOR FOOTBALL TEAM BURLINGTON CHAMPIONS

Aldershot's first play of the season – a 65 yard pass and run play from Dave Lawson to Gord Anderson – was only a hint of what was to be expected of the 1965 Wildcats. The team lived up to our hopes, finishing in first place with a record of five wins and one tie.

A fine defensive team, led by Clyde Peterson, allowed only 33 points to be scored against them, while the powerful offensive team rolled up over 150 points.

The Wildcats carried this undefeated record into the play-offs and emerged successful in a two-game total points series, winning both games.

Thanks to the excellent coaching of Mr. Bradstock and Mr. McKenna, Aldershot's first undefeated season earned them the Burlington Championship.

BASKETBALL

SENIORS

Four wins and seven losses tells the tale. Although strong, our team was not strong enough and was eliminated from the SOSSA Zone One Championships. In the battle against our arch-rivals, Nelson (this year's champs) the team lost with a close score of 38 - 37. The very last game, which decided whether the squad would make the finals was lost by a mere 4 points.

Individually, it was a very good year for all the players; when called upon, each one gave his utmost. This year could be called a rebuilding year for the Lions, and we hope that future senior basketball teams will uphold the fine tradition set forth by their predecessors.

JUNIORS

Playing great offensive and defensive ball this year, our junior team won eight out of the eleven games in the series. Although the team failed to reach the play-offs, two players managed to accumulate over 100 points apiece in offensive play; like true Wildcats, the players were expert in checking their opponents on the defensive level.

To a team well coached by Mr. Bradstock we offer our congratulations for an all-out effort.
 The best of luck next season!

MIDGETS

Each morning this winter, Aldershot High School opened a little early for Midget basketball practices. Coached by Mr. McKenna, with Ron Lambert as captain and Glen Field as his assistant, Aldershot's first Midget team put forth an all-out effort. Although the team as a whole did not attain a desirable standing, one player, Dave Goodbrand, was selected for the league "Allstars" as forward.

The experience gained by our first Midget team will prove invaluable on graduation to a Junior level.

THE GIRLS' TEAM:

M. M. Robinson played host to the Zone One Meet this year.

Nancy Davidson took a first in the Shot-Put and second in Discus. Lorraine Swick tied for third in Hurdles and Barb Lawrence placed fourth in Long Jump. Diane Vander Meulen, another fine Junior, placed second in the High Jump.

In the Intermediates Barbe Green placed third in both her 60 and the Hurdles. Francis Layfield placed fourth in the 100 yard dash and Debbie Shonk came first in the Long Jump.

Pam Williams, in the Senior Division, placed second in her 60 yard dash and third in the 100.

In the relays, the Intermediates tied for second.

The S.O.S.S.A. meet of 1966 showed Diane Vander Meulen as second best in High Jump and gave Nancy Davidson a fifth in the Shot-Put.

Barbe Green placed fifth in the Intermediate Girls' Hurdles and the Intermediate Relay team came third.

In the Seniors, Pam Williams placed third in her 60 yard dash and second in the 100 yard dash.

THE BOYS' TEAM:

1966 was the most successful year ever for the Boys' Track and Field Team. After a heartbreaking loss to M. M. in their first meet of the year (129 - 128) the boys worked hard towards the Zone 1 meet.

Here Aldershot placed fifth with 73½ points. Len Anderson won the Junior Championship with 13 points and Ian McAlister received two first place finishes in the Shot-Put and Discus. In the Intermediate and Senior divisions, a number of our athletes along with our Juniors qualified for the S.O.S.S.A. meet.

Gary Dingleline and Jay Graydon won first place in the Intermediate 220 and Hurdles respectively.

At a very successful Field Day this year, Len Anderson, Gord Anderson and Eric Luxon were the individual champions in Junior, Intermediate and Senior divisions respectively.

A lot of hard nights were spent in preparation of these meets and both boys and girls deserve credit for their fine performances.

GIRLS'

BASKETBALL

This is the first year that Aldershot has ever had a Midget Girls' Basketball Team. As only one other school in Burlington can boast such a team, there were no league games.

In a one-day tournament our girls displayed real ability, but were defeated 16 - 12 by Water-down and 15 - 12 by Ancaster, the tournament champs. Better luck next year, girls!

JUNIOR GIRLS

Our Junior Girls started off the basketball season with a bang this year. In an exhibition game against Parkside High School they breezed to a 25 - 14 victory. Thus inspired the team went on to establish a record of 3 wins and 3 losses, the final loss being against Burlington Central 23 - 14.

"Determined" is the word to describe this year's Senior Girls' Basketball team. Although our team lost to Burlington Central and twice to Nelson the team displayed their fighting spirit by defeating M. M. Robinson twice and Central once.

With this record the team entered a sudden-death play-off to break a second place tie with Burlington. Despite their fierce determination and Miss Pauza's fine coaching they were defeated 23 - 18.

We extend our thanks for their fine efforts.

The girls' gym team has completed another successful year of gymnastics. Aldershot hosted several meets this year, including ones with Welland — Eastdale and Oakville — Trafalgar. Our team travelled to Scarboro and to Blakelock.

At the Zone One meet held at Oakville — Trafalgar, Aldershot placed third out of fifteen schools. On March 26, our girls placed 5th at the S.O.S.S.A. meet held at our school.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Miss Lyons, on behalf of the gym team, for all the time, hard work and help which she gave to us this year.

OUTSTANDING ATHLETES FOR '65

BARBARA GREEN

The honour of being Aldershot's Outstanding Girl Athlete was awarded to Barb Green for her accomplishments in S.O.S.S.A. and her athletic prowess throughout the school year. Congratulations Barb!

DENNIS CALDWELL

A member of the Canadian National Water Polo Champions, Dennis won this trophy for his achievements in the butterfly and the free swim at the Ontario High School Swimming Championships.

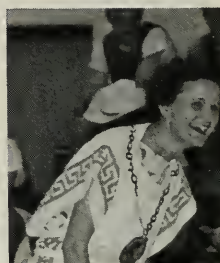

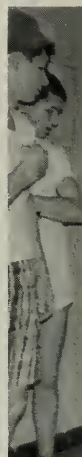

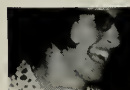

SKI TEAM IS TOPS

To the chagrin of the other Hamilton District High Schools, Aldershot's first Ski Team captured the J. J. Newland's Trophy with a skillful display of skiing at the Chedoke Annual Winter Carnival.

ALD-o-lympics

SOCIAL

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Left to Right: Mary Jo Kelly, Chris Finley, Chairman; Rod Dale, Susan Thomas.

The success of a school year largely depends upon the students who strive to make it so. This year at Aldershot has been successful to say the least, as proven by Ald-O-lympics and H.M.S. Pinafore, to mention only two events. These are both examples of students working together as a group and deriving pleasure from their efforts. The social committee this year has been such an organization. Under the supervision of Mr. McCollom and Mr. Walsh, and with the co-operation of the Students' Council, its forty-five members have worked together on many of this year's school dances.

At commencement in the Fall, Sue Thomas, Mary Jo Kelly and Rod Dale, the three co-ordinators of the committee, organized the annual "Graduation Dance". The girls' gymnasium was decorated in green and gold streamers to remind the grads of their days at Aldershot. Shields of green and gold containing the graduates' names decorated the walls. With music supplied by Laurie Walker and his band, the graduates attended their last Aldershot dance.

Again, in the Spring, the Social Committee organized the annual Spring Prom. Many weeks of hard work and effort went into preparation for the night of April first. But it was well worthwhile. The gymnasium was transformed into a castle in the days of "Camelot". Silver knights and beautiful ladies decorated the walls, while a false ceiling of red streamers provided a medieval atmosphere. Earl Ray and his eight-piece orchestra played behind a setting of silver castle turrets and red and silver flags. A red throne mounted on a silver platform was the setting for the crowning of the "Queen of Camelot" and her "Princess" at twelve o'clock. The members of the student body nominated six girls - Beth Waite, Joyce Spedaliere, Mary Ann Norton, Diane Lees, Marnie McKee, and Chris Finlay, for this position. Chosen on the basis of poise, personality, and participation in school affairs, Diane Lees was crowned "Princess" and Marnie McKee "Queen". These girls are two of our best school citizens and well deserve the honour bestowed on them. Due to the efforts of the Social Committee every girl who attended "Camelot" will have this evening to remember as the climax of the school dances for '65 - '66.

MALLORY'S MUSICIANS

The band has completed another successful year. They have played at several assemblies, Remembrance Day, the commencements of both Aldershot and M. M. Robinson, and at the Christmas programme.

In April, the band travelled to London in order to play two assemblies at Clarke Road Secondary School. Their band in turn, played at our school at which time a buffet lunch was served by the band under the convenorship of Sandy Fleming.

The highlight of the year for the band was Music Night. Such numbers as Mary Poppins, Brigadoon and a chorale by Janice Hampel were heard. The Junior Band conducted by Darrell Nameth opened the programme with several pieces.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Mallory for all the help he has given the Senior Band. We certainly appreciate the time and effort that he has spent on us.

THE RELUCTANT DRAGON

This was a lighthearted comedy put on by the Drama Club. It centres around a dragon (played by Robert McCourt) who suddenly appears in mediaeval England. The play was directed by Miss Guiltinan and the leads were played by Gary Proctor, Chris Cudmore, Mike Epstein and Sharon Simpson.

H.M.S. PINAFORE

This year Mr. Mallory and his crew produced "H.M.S. Pinafore" by Gilbert and Sullivan. The lead parts were played by Miriam Hewitt, Rick Kitchen, Gord Hoppa, Marta Middleton, Steve Hulse and Vuk Kovinich. Enjoyed by cast and audience, "Pinafore" was a great success.

The smart new way to go places...

No two ways about it... HONDA is decidedly in. Over 2,500,000 happy Honda owners know it covers a lot of ground economically, dependably, conveniently, safely. Why?

Economy... Its well-mannered gas consumption... just sips gas... gives over 250 miles to the gallon or over 6 miles for 1¢.

Dependability... Honda owners know it starts every time and even at 40 mph, she hums politely.

Convenience... Go-anywhere ability. Zip through the worst of traffic... ramble over country roads... the 4-stroke, 50 cc engine is a model of self-reliance.

Safety... You're boss and your HONDA knows it. Big never-fail brakes... instant power when you need it... perfect control at all times.

And all this for just 299 dollars including turn signals and twin rear view mirrors (Model C-100)... with low cost insurance readily available.

There's a Honda model for you... from 50 to 305 cc. And you get to meet the nicest people!

Model C100 - 50cc.
